

A full-page photograph of two men in steampunk costumes standing in a futuristic, metallic corridor. The man on the left wears a dark hat, a light blue shirt, a dark vest with buttons, and dark trousers. The man on the right wears a dark hat, a light blue shirt, a dark vest with buttons, and dark trousers. They are both holding walking sticks. The corridor has a high ceiling with a large skylight and walls made of reflective, metallic panels. The floor is also made of reflective panels. The lighting is dramatic, with strong highlights and shadows.
